33 St. George St.
4:00-5:30 pm
December 7, 2009

In 2009, the Mayor of Toronto announced a new initiative to make the city's data accessible to its citizens. Since September, graduate and undergraduate students in Computer Science at the University of Toronto have been working to show the world how they can use that data to make their city a better place to live. This showcase is their chance to demonstrate what they have accomplished.

1. Managing Twitter Conversations
Tyler Lu, Kevin Regan, Jasper Snoek, and Danny Tarlow
2. Finding the Best Place to Live
